Surprising Banned Books by Joy Stevenson

Come to the library during banned book week and try to guess the title of the book that has been shredded. The winner will receive (of course) a book.

When most people hear the term, “banned books” they usually think of this happening in more repressive regimes – like China under Mao and Germany during the Third Reich. But the reality is that books have been banned for – well as long as books have been around. The “justification” for the banning of specific books also varies widely. The Bible (religious) was banned in the USSR for 30 years (1926-1956); The Communist Manifesto (political) was banned in Turkey for 165 years (1848-2013), and Lady Chatterley’s Lover (morals) was banned in the UK for 32 years (1928-1960).

Local governments and schools have been trying to ban books in America as well. Below is a short list of books that have been banned in America and the reasons behind the ban. We think you will be surprised.

- The first “Where’s Waldo?” – indecent
- Little Red Riding Hood – promotes drinking
- Sleeping Beauty - promotes witchcraft and magic
- Catcher in the Rye – anti-white
- The Diary of a Young Girl – for being a “real downer”
- Eleanor & Park – offensive language
- Looking for Alaska – may lead a student to sexual experimentation
- This One Summer – includes LGBT characters
- Harriet the Spy - teaches children to lie, spy, back-talk, and curse
- The Perks of Being a Wallflower - drugs/alcohol/smoking and homosexuality
- Captain Underpants - offensive language
- The Hunger Games - religious viewpoint
- In the Night Kitchen – nudity

Did you know...the library checks out cake pans? In fact, 109 of them!

Pumpkin Get-Away

by Susan Church

Need a mini-getaway now that school is back in session? Maybe one last fling before cold weather (gah!) hits? Take a trip to one of the many pumpkin patches in the area.

Roca Berry Farm is a short 18 mile drive away on Highway 33. Roca Berry Farm always has fun new things for the kids...and pumpkins. Martin's Hillside Orchard in Ceresco (15 miles north of Lincoln) has a Butterfly Garden...and pumpkins. JK's Pumpkin Patch (also 15 minutes north of Lincoln) has a bouncing jump pad for ALL ages...and pumpkins. Vala's Pumpkin Patch (45 minutes east of Lincoln) is the granddaddy of the pumpkin patches. It has LOTS of activities, food, and entertainment...and pumpkins. These are but a few of the 20 or so listings for pumpkin patches within a 75 mile drive.

So pick a day and location, load up the kids, and head out for an afternoon of sunshine, fun, and good fall food...and pumpkins. Don't forget to bring your favorite pumpkin book along for the ride.
