Nebraska author Tosca Lee will be at the Crete Carrier Community Room on Sunday, August 27 at 2:00 pm. Her latest book, "The Long March Home," has recently been released. Extra copies will be available starting in August and an eBook and eAudioBook is available only for Crete patrons on Libby.

The library has many other books by Tosca Lee, including "The Line Between," the Code Yellow Book Club selection for August. Extra copies of this book are available now. Tosca will be speaking virtually to the Code Yellow Book Club on August 3 at noon. All are welcome to attend.

Adult Bingo

Read five books during July and August and complete the bingo card. Patrons choose five books from any of the squares. No need to complete a single row or column. The only rule is that the same book cannot be used for more than one square. If you need assistance in finding a book in a particular square, we have put together some suggestions. Individuals who complete the bingo will be eligible to win one of two book-motif bird houses.

There is still plenty of time to stop in the library for your bingo sheet. You can also go to our website and download it: <https://tinyurl.com/48xfetfy>

Puzzle Race Party

Nine teams of four people competed to see who could put a 300-piece puzzle together the quickest. We met at College Heights Country Club in the "Goose Pen." Every team received the same puzzle. What great entertainment to see all of the teams strategizing and cooperating to complete their puzzle. (It was a cat lying in a bookcase.) The "Moore Pieces/Moore Fun" team members finished in a blistering 20 minutes! Actually, all of the teams were quite good and all were done in less than 45 minutes. Everybody had a great time.

We plan to have another puzzle race party in November. Watch the paper, newsletter and Facebook so your team can participate next time!
